Rough Rider, Wearing
Picture of Helen Gould, Committed Suicide.

DENVER, Col., March 12.—Wearing a gold watch containing her picture, a protégé of Miss Helen Gould, Sergt.
Charles R. Hider, Rough Rider, blew his brains out on the stoop of his wife's home.
Hider was one of the most brilliant and reckless fighters in Roosevelt's command. His colonel gave him special mention in an article in Scribner's Magazine.
Miss Gould befriended him in a New York Hospital. She gave him a handsome watch containing her picture.
Hider went to Denver and became known about town. He took a great deal of his military exploits. On Feb.
13 last he married Miss Maude R.
Steuere, of Salida, Col. The honeymoon was hardly over before he fell in love with a Miss Lynch, a young woman of Denver.
His wife's brother heard of his infat-uation and refused to see Hider.
Then the soldier vowed he would kill his wife and himself. The police were looking for him when he went to his wife's house after midnight and put a bullet through his brain.
In a pocket of the dead man's coat was found this note:
To Whom It May Concern:
I am C. R. Hider, of Roosevelt's Rough Riders. I belong to Company A, First Colorado Volunteers.
My father is S. J. Hider, of Gunnison, Col. I have a sister in Boulder.
Miss Kate Lynch has done all this.
I was raised here in Denver.
My brother-in-law, Thorpe McCreary, has forbidden me to see my wife.
My father has $10,000 of my money and he will pay all the costs of this. Yours,
C. R. HIDER.
or "Fence Kid," the Old Cowboy.
Hider was on the range in Texas when the Rough Riders were organized.
He served with Troop C throughout the Cuban campaign.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Senator Crawford today introduced a bill changing the name of the Paris, of the American line, to the Philadelphia.
Crawford said three of the fleet of ships of the International Navigation Company, which the American Transoceanic line service, now bear the names of American cities, and it is desired to have the name of this vessel changed to Philadelphia.
The ship was wrecked last summer off the coast of England. The ship was then thoroughly rebuilt and over a million dollars expense was incurred.

NOTHING COULD SAVE SEE.

Christian Scientists, Doctors and Patent Medicines of No Avail.

James W. See, of New Rochelle, was so anxious to live that he hired doctor and took patent medicine by the quart.
Last week Drs. Coddington and Lyon told See that he had Bright's disease and could not live. His wife called in a Christian Scientist who lived on the farm. He summoned a "healer" who told See that he was not really ill. It was all imaginary.
Mrs. See then summoned a priest, while the sick man himself sent for the pastor of the Methodist church of which he was a member. And all these diverse healers of body and soul met in the house at once.
